THE TREASURY SURPLUS

Morrison's Resolution Expected to Run the Gamut in the Senate

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Morrison's surplus resolution has been referred to the Senate Finance Committee. A member who favors the resolution said to-day that he was confident the majority of the committee would agree to report it back. Morrill, the Chairman of the committee, has been absent for some time by reason of severe indisposition, and it is not known that he will be able to meet with the committee again during this session, but counting his vote in the negative, the friends of the resolution figure up six votes for it, or a clear majority of one. Those who are claimed as in the affirmative are Voorhees, Beck, Harris and Vance, Democrats, and Jones, of Nevada, and Allison, Republicans. Against the resolution are counted Morrill, Sherman, Aldrich and Miller, Republicans, and McPherson, Democrat. It is possible that there may be some doubt about the position of Allison, and the majority one way or the other will depend upon him. Senator Aldrich is now absent, sick. The only Southern Senators known to be against the resolution are Hampton and Butler, of South Carolina, although there may be others.

A FRUITLESS VICTORY

By the Chronicle

A Democratic contemporary has taken the Chronicle to task for criticising the do nothing policy of its party, and charges that no matter how creditable a record the Democracy was making for itself, we would still find it a subject for vilification. It is unnecessary for us to state that we have kept strictly to the record, and have often given our Bourbon friends the benefit of the doubt. Indeed, we have never gone to half the lengths that Eastern Democratic papers have in treating the subject of the total incapacity of the party to manage the affairs of the nation. Take the following arrangement of the Democratic House by the Louisville Courier-Journal and try to match it with anything even printed in the Chronicle.

"A party earnest, zealous and aggressive is not long a small party. But suppose it is, what does it lose? It was large enough two years ago to elect Mr. Cleveland and to secure a majority in the House, but what is its victory worth?"

Has it cut down expenses to any considerable extent?

Has it to any degree improved the currency?

Has it done anything whatever to relieve the industrial depression?

Did the party's majority in the House prevent the passage of an extravagant river and harbor bill?

Are the pension bills in danger because the Democrats control the committee?

And, most important of all, has a Democratic victory lightened taxation at any point, or diminished the annual surplus, a surplus which is the one excuse for extravagant appropriations and the cause of corrupt legislation?

In fact, it was to all intents a fruitless victory?"

Of course Henry Watterson may be depended upon to forget that he penned this epitaph for his party. In the heat of the next campaign he will be found urging, as of old, that salvation for the country cannot be obtained except through the Democratic party. But when he does, the Republican editor will ask him what happened since June 24th to cause him to change his verdict that the victory of Cleveland was a fruitless one for the people.

The contract of the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, with the Lick trustees for the construction and placing of the steel dome for the thirty-six-inch refractor, was filed for record at San Jose Friday. According to the specifications the work must be completed inside of 160 working days and the compensation is to be the actual cost of labor and materials, with 10 per cent. added, the total expenses not to exceed $56,850.

Charles Mitchell sailed Thursday on the Germania for Europe. He will return in a couple of months, when he wants to meet Sullivan in public or private.

Fred Grant says that he has reduced his debts from $880,000 to $500,000. He gives nearly everything he makes to his creditors.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

The Town Shaken from one End, to the Other, and Almost Every Window Broken

The Winnemucca Silver State of Friday has the following:

At 4 20 o'clock this morning the people of Winnemucca were startled by an explosion which shook every building from foundation to roof, and made many believe the end of the world had come. Many persons suddenly awakened by the shock rushed from their rooms, while others were almost paralyzed by fright, and for the time were almost unable to move. Lamps, pictures and other articles were thrown from the walls, glass and chinaware were broken, doors forced from their fastenings, window blinds torn off, and windows shattered to pieces. Some thought an aerolite had struck the earth, others thought lightning had struck their houses, while many imagined dynamite bombs had been exploded under their windows. It was ascertained from persons who were up at the time that the explosion occurred at the N. Levy & Co.'s powder house on the old Humboldt canal above town, where a ton or more of giant and black powder was stored. This powder caught fire from some unknown cause, and persons who were looking in that direction saw that they saw a sheet of flame light up the heavens and immediately afterwards heard the explosion, which was followed by a cloud of dust which rose high in the air.

THE DAMAGE

It is impossible at the present time to get anything near a correct estimate of the damage, as almost every building in town sustained more or less injury. One end of the Winnemucca Reduction Works building above town was shattered, as was also the water tank owned by Stauffer & Sweetser, John Diehl's Brewery and residence, the residences of Mrs. Windle, County Clerk Gilson, County Recorder Hill, and D. Pascal. Every business house and residence on Bridge street from the Winnemucca Hotel to Railroad street was damaged to a greater or less extent, but the show windows at Staunton's saddlery and shoe store, Dr. Hanson's drug store, A. Kienhaas's variety store, Jackson's restaurant, the Postoffice, Cox's saloon, Baile's meat market, Oppenheim's, La Fontaine's restaurant, Bar's and Fellows' saloons, Delbanen's bank and the Court House suffered most. The hose house lamps were shaken down and broken, and in the Silver State office adjoining, a lot of type was wiped and a glass cabinet broken. The windows in both the upper and lower stories of the Court House were broken, and the jury, which was out in the Marzen case thought the building was about to fall upon them. The plastering on several buildings was shaken from the walls, and in some houses annary birds were killed by the shock. Had the explosion occurred in the evening when lamps and gas lights were burning, a conflagration would doubtless have resulted from the breaking of lamps and personal injuries from the flying glass.

THE CAUSE OF THE EXPLOSION.

There are various theories as to the cause of the explosion. Many are of the opinion that the magazine was fired by an incendiary, and Sheriff Fellows authorizes the Silver State to offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who fired the powder house or half that amount for information that may lead to that result. Others think that gas generated in the powder house, which was tightly closed, caused the explosion, while more hold to the opinion that black and giant powder, stored together for any length of time, will eventually result in an explosion. Whatever the cause was this morning's experience demonstrates the danger of storing considerable quantities of powder in or near town. Fortunately in this instance no lives were lost, and the damage to property, though considerable, is not as great as it certainly would have been had the explosion occurred in the evening.

The authorities will, doubtless, thoroughly investigate the matter, and, if possible, ascertain the cause of the explosion.

The Irrigation Question to be Considered

The Sacramento Bee says the Governor seems to have found it necessary to call an extra session of the California Legislature. The following is a reason given for the call, and it will be seen that it is for the purpose of putting before the people, at the November election, a proposed amendment to the Constitution, to obviate objection made by the Supreme Court in its late decision. Copies of the proclamation have been mailed to each member.

In my judgment an extraordinary occasion has arisen which renders it expedient and necessary for the public welfare that the Legislature should be called together. He then refers to the recent decision of the Supreme Court, that riparian owners along navigable streams in California own the flowing waters in such streams, etc., and says the wide-spread disaster which this decision threatens to the agricultural interests and the consequent general excitement and apprehension make it proper that the Legislative and Executive branches of the Government should take prompt action to prevent the injurious consequences which will otherwise inevitably flow from the establishment of such a rule of law by the highest Court in the commonwealth. The Legislature is called to meet at 12 o'clock, M., next Tuesday, July 20th, to propose and submit to the people of the State an amendment, or amendments, to Article XIX of the Constitution of the State relative to water and water rights.

CONDITION OF THE STATE.

Report of Surveyor General Powling on its Condition and Prospects.

In his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1886, to Hon. Wm. A. J. Sparks, Commissioner of the General Land Office, U. S. Surveyor General Powling says of the condition and outlook of Nevada:

The condition of the State has not materially changed since my last annual report, but what change is apparent is for the better, and I firmly believe Nevada has seen its darkest days. The mining outlook is full of encouragement, and the most experienced of our mining men have great faith that there will soon be another boom in Nevada mines. Within the past few days ore has been found on the 3,200 foot level of the Chollar mine, Virginia City. The very fact that a development has been made at such a great depth inspires renewed confidence in the belief that there is an immense ore body in some one of the mines in the middle group of the grand old Comstock lode, and that all that is required to demonstrate it is a combined and vigorous prosecution of the work now in progress. The old lode is doing well, as it is. The daily output of ore averages one thousand tons, and although it does not contain as much of the precious metals as in the so-called bonanza days, it is the cause of giving employment to thousands of persons. The payrolls of the mines and mills aggregate nearly $250,000 per month, or three millions of dollars per annum. The yield from the ore is about equally divided between gold and silver. The bullion output of the State for the past year attained the respectable sum of ten millions. The Paradise mine, in Humboldt county, has made a remarkable showing of late, paying dividends with regularity, and recent developments stamp it one of the best outside properties in the State. There is a great deal of mining going on in Elko, Humboldt, Lincoln, White Pine, Eureka, Lander, Churchill, Nye, Esmeralda, Douglas, Lyon and Washoe, any reports from these sections indicate that Nevada will soon come to the front as the best mining State in the Union. In addition to the favorable prospects from the mines now being worked, the hope of the future springs from the certainty of the establishment of reduction works at Reno, which are expected to be in operation within the next six months, and which will not only save to the State the shipments now being made to San Francisco, Salt Lake and Denver, but will enable our prospectors to develop properties now idle, because of cost of transportation, etc., to places where the ore can be reduced. Just as soon as reduction works are in full blast, and the miner can have a market for his ore, as the farmer has for his hay or wheat or potatoes, the State will progress at an astonishingly lively rate, and will surprise the world with her production of the precious metals. That day is very near at hand. The cattle interest continues to be prosperous and profitable. It has become next to mining, the mainstay of the State. The capital invested is fully fifteen millions of dollars. There were shipped last year 60,000 head, of the value of over two millions of dollars. There is no spot on the face of the globe better adapted to stockraising purposes than the best of country in Nevada north of the Central Pacific Railroad. Nevada beef is not surpassed anywhere. Sheep husbandry has been industriously followed by those who are engaged in it, and with satisfactory results. Various other, but minor, industries have been reasonably profitable during the past year. Our farmers have been favored with good crops and are happy and contented. Each year sees a larger area placed under cultivation, especially where it is possible to get water to irrigate the lands. There are many thousands of acres of land that would prove as productive as mortal could wish if water could be carried onto them, and some day, it is to be most devoutly hoped, that the General Government or the State, will devise some plan whereby the natural waterways of the State can be improved and reservoirs constructed, to husband the valuable drops, artesian wells sunk to find the subterranean passages from which will flow that which will make the desert blossom as the rose, or vast canals dug to carry from place to place the precious water now going to waste. Meantime the people of Nevada enjoy good health, have good schools and churches, intelligent and refined society, and would not exchange places with any other set of human beings in what some say are more favored localities.

We are in receipt of the Grand Army edition of the Hollister Free Lance. It has a fine colored lithographic cover and contains useful information regarding San Benito County, its resources and the surrounding country.

EXTRADITION TREATY.

A Document Which Will Check the Travel to Canada.

WASHINGTON, July 17th.—Extreme reticence is maintained at the Department of State in regard to the new extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain, and a close inquiry fails to extract much information on the subject from that source. All the details of the treaty, however, are well known in diplomatic circles here, and are freely discussed. The treaty was signed at London on June 25th by Lord Rosebery for the government of Great Britain and by Mr. Phelps, representing the government of the United States. It amends the treaty of 1842 specifying the crimes for which extradition can be demanded. The negotiations between the two governments with this object in view have been in progress for nine years. The offenses to which the new treaty will apply are embezzlement or larceny above the sum of fifty dollars; burglary, malicious injuries to property, endangering the life of any person, where such facts are a crime by the law of either the United States or Great Britain, and manslaughter. It is provided that there shall be no extradition for offenses of a political character only. No convicted fugitive criminal shall be surrendered unless a copy of the court record and sentence shall be produced, and his identity thoroughly established. The treaty is to go into effect within ten days after ratification, and can be terminated at the pleasure of either of the contracting parties. The treaty was sent to the Senate some ten days since, but has not yet come up for action in that body. It is thought there will be no delay in its ratification.

Lucky Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—A more fortunate fate than that in store for the San Francisco Postoffice bill awaits the bill appropriating $75,000 for a Federal building at Los Angeles. Carlisle says that that bill shall come up if there is any opportunity. Markham thinks that if he gets that bill through it will help him to secure his Judicial bill also. There is danger that the President will veto the bill if a Federal court is not established there. This may hasten Edmunds to report the bill, which has passed the House, creating a United States Circuit Court in Southern California.

The street railroad lookout is at an end. The men who seceded, as well as those who were discharged for intimidation from the City and the North Beach and Mission lines, have resumed their old positions, and peace and happiness reign supreme over the districts that were lately scenes of riot and confusion. Affairs were brought to this satisfactory solution yesterday by the meeting and conference of delegates from the Carman's Association and the Board of Directors of the affected lines. As a result of the conference an agreement was drawn up and signed, setting forth that the North Beach and Mission Railroad company agreed to reinstate drivers and conductors recently discharged from their employ, and bound themselves not to discharge any employee of their line in the future for belonging to the Knights of Labor or any other organization. The Knights of Labor in the employ of the North Beach and Mission Railroad Company agreed not to use intimidation to any employee of the company for the purpose of prevailing upon them to join their organization.

The Carson Index says: When the next Legislature meets and the biennial hub-bub about economy is inaugurated, the taxpayers of the State should, as one man, arise to a question of privilege, and inserting the finger of public opinion in the retrenchment pie, demand that there shall be a reform in the matter of county expenditures. Under the present law the greater portion of the money taken from the people in the shape of taxes goes in this way. Washoe is the most economically managed county in the State, and is also the most prosperous. Ormsby is also getting down to a rational business proposition. In Storey there is room for improvement. Some of the counties of the Great East should also give this question careful and intelligent attention.

WARNING THE MORMONS.

Governor West of Utah Issues a Proclamation.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 17.—Governor West yesterday issued the following proclamation:

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
EXECUTIVE MANSION.
WHEREAS, In this Territory an organization of religionists, denominated "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints," known also as the "Mormon Church," has its head, and from here said body has heretofore sent, and now has missionaries in many of the States of the United States and foreign countries, proselyting to its faith and inducing converts to immigrate to and settle in this Territory, and such immigration has heretofore and continues to come into this Territory; and whereas, said Church in its plans of worship and through its public teachers and press openly proclaim it the right and duty of its members to violate the law of the land upon the subject of marriage; and whereas, the chief officers of that body and its First President are now hiding, awaiting the process of the Courts under a charge of violating said law, and others (prominent members—apostles, bishops and teachers) are confined in penitentiary under conviction and sentence of violating said law; and whereas, a great expense is necessarily involved and our courts continually burdened with trials of offenders against said law;

Now, therefore, I, Caleb W. West, Governor of Utah Territory, while disclaiming all right to interfere with the religious beliefs of any, yet recognizing the duty of all to obey the law of the land, do hereby make proclamation of the foregoing facts, and warn all violators of the law as to the marriage relation that they do incur and subject themselves to heavy fines and imprisonment, and all well-disposed persons from associating themselves with any person or organization for the purpose of immigrating to this Territory to enter into or maintain any marriage relation other than that allowed and sanctioned by the law, or to aid and abet others in so doing.

CALSB W. WEST, Governor.
ARTHUR L. THOMAS, Secretary.

SHORTHORNS.

The following communication was written to the Inyo Register, and explains more thoroughly how the Short-horn stock brings a larger profit than any other:

ED. REGISTER:—I wish to mention in your columns a few plain, common sense facts regarding the improvement of cattle. There is a general feeling among farmers and stockmen that to pay more than $50 for a sire is the prelude to financial ruin. They go on supplying three-year-old beef steers to the butchers that weigh 500 pounds, and are related if a few reach 550 pounds, and fail to see that by the expenditure of $200 to $300 for a sire that is purely bred, and worth something to their herds, that they could sell two-year-olds as heavy as their three-year-olds now average, saving a year in time and the cost of keeping and all attendant risks for a year. I recently sold thirty beef steers, all three years old but six, which were four years old. Among them was a one-half Short-horn steer, three years old, and in no way superior to the average half-breed steer, that weighed alive, after driving twenty-six miles in one day, 1,284 pounds. The other 29 made an average live weight of 1,049 pounds, and dressed only 50 per cent. of live weight, or 524 pounds, while the grade Short-horn dressed 730 pounds, or 57 per cent. of live weight. He dressed 80 pounds more than the best four-year-old, and 206 pounds more than the other 29 head averaged. This steer ranged in the mountains with the others and fed with them, showing his contempt for the state and false notion that Short-horns cannot rustle for a living, and proving their ability to outgrow other animals under equal conditions. All this is simply the result of using a pure Short-horn sire. This steer did not cost me any more than the others, and on the butcher's block brought me over $15 more than they did. Now, I should like to ask such of your readers who think they cannot afford to buy thoroughbred sires, how many half-breed Short-horn steers it will take to pay for even a $500 bull, out of the extra pounds of meat they will dress over and above the animals they are now raising? The first 40 steers raised will cover the price. When there are 40 steers there will be 40 heifers that will be worth $25 a head more than their mothers as a foundation for further improvements. To all intents the force for good or evil within it. No breeder of cattle can afford to use a common sire. To do so is a bad type of economy—a penny wise and pound foolish practice. The man who does not improve his stock will get left. Breed from the best forever, which is the only road to success.

A large band of sheep got into a railroad cut this side of Truckee Friday, when a train came along and ran into them. Twenty or thirty were killed.

AN OBITUARY.

A Brother's Tribute to a Deceased Sister.

Last month the JOURNAL noticed the death at San Francisco of Miss Lizzie Chase, formerly of Reno, and at the request of the mother of the deceased, the following, written for the New York Sun by the dead girl's brother, is reproduced: "It is with sad heart and moistened eyes that we record the flight to her heavenly home of Lizzie Taylor Chase, the beloved daughter of L. T. and Mrs. L. M. Chase, and dearly loved sister of Mrs. Annie L. Connors and Frank H. Chase. The sorrowful event occurred at San Francisco, California, June 7th, of typhoid, after a short illness, despite the most assiduous nursing and the skill of two eminent physicians, Drs. McNulty and McNutt. During the brief 19 years in which she gladdened the hearts of her mother and relatives, she was an earthly angel of goodness. With tender care and loving devotion she for years nursed an invalid mother, who is left heartbroken by her great loss. In character the dear one was most lovely. She was a devout Christian, and was a teacher in her Sunday-school. The funeral services were held on the 9th, the Rev. Dr. Beers, of Trinity Church, officiating. All of the young friends of the loved one, and many friends of the family were present, each with some kindly word of regret, while many reverently placed beautiful floral remembrances on the casket. At the close of the services those present gazed for the last time on the fair young face, which, thanks to the embalmer's art, was as natural as in life. The casket was then gently borne to the hearse by pall-bearers selected from among her companions, and was placed, by kind permission of Judge Quint and wife, in their family plot at Laurel Hill Cemetery. The obsequies were in charge of N. Gray & Co., and were conducted throughout in the most kindly and sympathetic manner. To them and to the Rev. Dr. Beers, Dr. Franklin N. Clark, a noble friend in sorrow, to Judge and Mrs. Quint, to the physicians in attendance, and to many other kind friends, the bereaved family tenders its most grateful thanks."
